BIDS RECEIVED

For Construction of M.
H. & E. R. R.--Smith &
Co. May Get It.

Bids for the construction of the Madisonville, Hartford and Eastern Railroad were opened the second time at the office of Chief Engineer Fegan Monday. The following firms or companies submitted propositions: Missouri Construction Co., Cape Girardeau, Mo.; C. H. Dishman, Pensacola, Fla.; Edington Griffiths & Co., Knoxville, Tenn.; Ryan Bros., Indianapolis, Ind.; Walter Wilson, Rodes & Co., Knoxville, Tenn.; Kirkpatrick Bros., Penrod, Ky.; C. D. Smith & Co., Memphis Tenn.; Carter Construction Co., Indianapolis, Ind.

While the Engineer's force will not be ready for a few days to give out the name of the successful bidder, it is believed that C. D. Smith & Co., of Memphis Tenn., will be given the contract. They agree to complete the work in twelve months. Some of the eight bidders mentioned will certainly be awarded the contracts in a few days, probably before the next issue of this paper.

The propositions contained time agreements for completion ranging all the way from five to eighteen months. —Hartford Republican.

PROMINENT

FARMER DEAD.

Garrett, Ky. June 12.—(Special.)—Orley D. Richardson died June 7, 1906. He was born in March 1837 and married Miss Malissa Richardson in September 1857. To this union was born four children who are McEl, Albert, Mrs. B. J. Canico and Mrs. C. L. Stitt, of Cincinnati and he also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Jim Wocfolk, of Brandenburg, and Mrs. Virg Hardin of Holt and a half-brother, Geo. Richardson, of Union, and a half-sister, Mrs. Julia Clarkson, of Big Spring. Mr. Richardson united with the Brandenburg Baptist church at the old Highland school-house in 1839 and moved his letter to Buck Grove church. Mr. Richardson was an active member of the Masonic Lodge at Brandenburg until recently old age preventing him. He was buried with full honors of the lodge. Funeral services conducted by Revs. B. F. Hagan and D. F. Shaeffer and remains were laid to rest in Buck Grove cemetery.

Many floral designs were placed on the grave, among them was a lovely one presented by the Masons. The lodge congregation showed that he was leaving many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wava Roff were here from Owensboro Sunday.

THOMAS J. JOLLY.

Bank At Falls Of Rough.

A new bank was opened at Falls-of-Rough June 2nd, with W. R. Cummings as cashier.

Ike Meyer was here Sunday.

APPRECIATED IN DANVILLE.

On the evening of Tuesday a piano recital was given by the advanced pupils of Mr. Mayer. The program was made up of numbers played by Miss Virginia Bradley, Miss Lula Severs and Miss Loretta Mannin with two eight hand numbers in which Mr. Mayer took the fourth part. The recital was throughout on a high plane and reflected great credit on Mr. Mayer as well as the pupils themselves. Miss Loretta Mannin rendered her numbers with vivacity and temperance. The playing of Miss Margaret Lula Severs was marked by artistic finish and repose combined with the intelligent grasp of musical spirit of her selections. In Miss Virginia Bradley are found all the signs of an artist and her progress during the last two years has been noticeably rapid. Her interpretation of the classical numbers of Beethoven and Mendelssohn was unusually beautiful but no less so than those of the modern, Liszt and Drorak. Danville will no doubt follow with pride her future career. —Boyle County Herald.

T. E. Matheny inspector for the Gray Tie Co., Evansville, is here. Mr. Matheny says he wants White Oak, Beech and Red Oak ties.

Uncle Jeff Jolly's "Goose" Story.

I have a chinese goose. She laid 30 eggs before she went to setting. I set 9 of the first laid eggs under a common goose March 21. Six of these eggs hatched April 19. I weighed one of the geese April 31. It was then 6 weeks old and weighed 7 pounds. Every one will average at least 8 1/2 pounds each. How is this for high weight? They are fighters and Mrs. Jolly says that when she feeds them, they not only whip all the chickens off but also the old 30 pound turkey gobbler.

Respectfully,
Tos. J. Jolly,
Bewleville, Ky., June 2.

Crops Cut Short By Drouth.

Bewleville, Ky., June 13.—(Special.)—Wheat, oats and meadows are badly cut short by the drouth. A full crop of tobacco was set out June 1 and 2. The hail injured garden stuff some and the rain washed the grounds considerably and made ponds in all the basins.

Walter Eetus has returned home.

BIG SHOW IS COMING.

Cooley & Hagan's show boat will play here June 25 or thereabouts. According to their statements the boat is the largest floating theater in the world, having been just recently constructed. This is its first season out. The interior of the boat is said to be far away and above that of any show boat now on the waters, the seating capacity being larger and superior to those of its floating contemporaries. The boat is said to have a very fine electrical plant.

Cooley & Hagan say the bill they have is giving satisfaction, it being made up of high salaried people. The show's band and orchestra are said to be good and the management promises the usual free open air concerts morning and evening.

Big Sunday--School

The Owensboro Messenger contained Sunday an excellent cut of the Third Baptist church Sunday School of Owensboro. This is the largest Sunday school in the state. On last Sunday, June 3, 31,03 persons were present.

Mrs. Ike Meyer went to Louisville Monday. She will remain there a short time, then will go to Western Kentucky to reside.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness," and applies to a city as well as an individual.

The Democrats of Louisville are urging James E. Stone to become a candidate for clerk of the Court of Appeals.

The contest over the whiskey election in this city has been continued until the 25th of this month.
There seems to be but one opinion in regard to the outcome; and that is that the local option people will win out. In that event the grand jury will get mighty busy along about October next.

Wm. J. Bryan is a dead sure winner for the Democratic nomination for President in 1908.
Everything points in that direction. A number of states in which Democratic conventions have been held, have declared for Bryan as their leader. Bryan will return from his trip around the world in August and a great ovation will be tendered him by the Democracy of the country. Having dropped all of his Populistic ideas, and that party having gone dead in Nebraska, and throughout the country, Bryan's position as a leader and a political organizer naturally changes. He is the central figure now in the Democratic camp, and he is looked to as one to lead them out of the wilderness.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours.
If the water is sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. If it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.
There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scaling pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.
If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c. and $1. sizes.
You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail.

HURBERT VREELAND FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

So much encouragement has been given Hurbert Vreeland, our present active and progressive young Commissioner of Agriculture, to offer himself
again as a candidate for a State office, that after mature consideration he has decided to become a candidate for Secretary of State. It certainly looks like he has won for himself the backing of the farmers of Kentucky for whatever he may seek, and in recognition of his efforts in their behalf since his election as State Commissioner thousands of them have urged him to offer for another State office, since the Constitution makes him ineligible for re-election.
Mr. Vreeland has accomplished something in an office that was created for the farmers, but which had been of very little benefit to them, and it is refreshing to the Democrats of Kentucky when they find public servants who devote all their time and thought to fulfilling the duties of their office with energy and intelligence.

Mr. Vreeland is the youngest of the present State officials, and until the last State election had never been a candidate for office. Although it was his first appearance he won his nomination for Commissioner of Agriculture by a majority of 26,000, next to the largest majority received by any candidate in the State primary, although opposed by two prominent candidates, who made most vigorous campaigns.
Mr. Vreeland has a personal acquaintance probably not surpassed by any other young man in Kentucky, extending to scores and hundreds in every one of the 119 counties in Kentucky.
He is a brother of John W. Vreeland, publisher of the Farmer's Home Journal, and at the head of the Democratic Executive Committee in Louisville and Jefferson county, and of Graham Vreeland, managing editor of the Courier-Journal, who for ten years was the Legislative correspondent of the Courier-Journal at Frankfort.

The Democratic nominations for State offices will be made again by State primary in November, and Mr.
Vreeland has begun an active campaign. Up to the present time he has no opposition.

There is no need worrying along in discomfort because of a disordered digestion. Get a bottle of KODOL DYS-PEPSIA, and see what it will do for you. Kodol not only digests what you eat and gives that tired stomach a needed rest, but is a corrective of the greatest efficiency. Kodol relieves indigestion, dyspepsia, palpitation of the heart, flatulence, and sour stomach.
Kodol will make your stomach young and healthy again. You will worry just in the proportion that your stomach worries you. Worry means the loss of ability to do your best. Worry is to be avoided at all times. Kodol will take the worry out of your stomach.

Sunny South Here Monday Night.

The following is what the Stenboville Daily Gazette has to say about Col. W. R. Markle's latest "Sunny South" which is to be here next Monday night June 18. "Sunny South" is one of the best shows on the water, we think.

Stenboville was paid a return visit last evening by W. R. Markle's Floating Theater, "The Sunny South," and as usual it was greeted by a crowded house. We have been visited annually for several years by Mr. Markle and although he has been here for a long time it is safe to say that this show has been by far the best collection of artists that he ever had. For two hours and a half the performers were greeted with shouts of laughter and loud applause.

The opening number on the program, Mr. Bert Hagne's clever comedy "A Sure Cure for Jealousy," contains a plot that is well worked out by five characters. The acting of Messrs. Randolph, Valdere and Hagne and Herbert Hoffman, brought forth continuous laughter, especially the comedy work of Bert Hagne, as the "Washwoman" and the "Cow Boy" and James Valdere's impersonation of the "Colored Servant." This set the audience on a keen edge for the many good things that were to follow.

The electric swings and automobile songs and marches by the ten Sunny South girls were very neatly done, and the girls are all pleasant to look upon. W. R. Markle deserves all the praise that is heard after the performance of the up-to-date business like handling of his amusement enterprise and he has the well wishes of his many Stenboville friends. His new floating theater is also the finest thing of its kind that has appeared on these waters and in fact a beautifully appointed, comfortable and commodious play house.

Thatched Roofs In England.
The thatched roof, which makes the English cottage picturesque, is doomed, said an architect. "For some years it has been going gradually. Soon it will be altogether a thing of the past. Fire insurance is the cause of the thatched roof's disappearance. No company will insure a cottage or its contents if the roof is thatched. They who want insurance must substitute for the roof of thatch a tiled one. As long as the English cottage remains very poor so that his house and furniture are not worth insuring he keeps a thatched roof over his head. As soon as he begins to prosper and lays in household goods of value he takes out a fire policy and away then goes his thatched roof." — Louisville Courier-Journal.

His Style of Hitting.
"And, now, Mrs. Sullivan," said the counsel, "will you be kind enough to tell the jury whether your husband was in the habit of striking you with impunity?"
"With what, sir?" queried Mrs. Sullivan.
"With impunity," repeated the counsel.
"Well, he was, sir, now and then, but he struck me oftener with his fist, sir."

His Remark.
"I won't do any more work for that man Hopkins."
"Why?"
"Well, he passed some remark I did not like."
"Did he?"
"He said, 'Brown, you won't be wanted after this week.'"

Convent Advice.
"A woman should always depend on her husband for advice," said the devoted wife.
"Yes," answered the visitor, "but it does grow monotonous not to get any advice except to economize." — Washington Star.

Lost Youth.
A man looks back with regret, but without bitterness, to his lost youth; a woman, however vehemently she may protest to the contrary, seldom if ever attains to this same calm serenity. — Gentlemen's Magazine.

General Debility

Day in and day out there is that feeling of weakness that makes a burden of itself. Food does not strengthen. Sleep does not refresh.

It is hard to do, hard to bear, what should be easy—vitality is on the ebb, and the whole system suffers.

For this condition take

Once a Nest of Pirates.
Lundy, in the Bristol channel, is an island where one may see an earthquake at any time. There is nothing alarming about these "earthquakes," however. They are simply certain curious crevasses in the west of the island, which the local people call by that name. Lundy in former centuries was a notorious nest of pirates. In King Henry III's time William de Marisco, a traitor to the king, built a castle there and set up as an early Captain Kidd. And so it went on through the centuries until in the middle of the eighteenth century Thomas Benson, a Barnstable merchant, who was then less of the island, was convicted of piracy and smuggling and expelled. He had a contract for carrying convicts to the American colonies and used quietly to land them on Lundy and use their labor there.

The Nine in the Calendar.
The figure 9, which came into the calendar on Jan. 1, 1880, will stay with us 111 years from that date, or until Dec. 31, 1999. No other figure has ever had such a long consecutive run, and the 9 itself has only once before been in a race which lasted over a century—that in which it continuously figured from Jan. 1, 889, until Dec. 31, 999, a period of 111 years. The figures 3 and 7 occasionally fall into old combinations, but neither of them has ever yet served for a longer period than 100 consecutive years in our calendar since the present mode of calculating time was established. It is also clear that from their relative positions among the numerals it is an impossibility for either of them to appear in date reckonings continuously for a longer period than a century.

Business Methods.
Great numbers of vast fortunes in this country have been and are being built up on the very ignorance of the masses in regard to business methods. The schemers bank on it that it is easy to swindle people who do not know how to protect their property. They thrive on the ignorance of their fellows. They know that a shrewd advertisement, a cunningly worded circular, a hypnotic appeal, will bring the hard earnings of these unsuspecting people out of hiding places into their own coffers.—Success Magazine.

Slovenliness in Speech.
Do not drift into careless habits of speech. Slang, which is slovenliness in speech, is as contemptible as slovenliness in dress. Many people use slang because they are too lazy to think of proper forms for the expression of thought. The clothing of our minds certainly ought to be regarded before that of our bodies.

Quite a Stole.
"I had expected there would be a great stir at Miss Parryford's wedding, but it seems to have passed off quietly."
"Oh, yes. The young man submitted to the operation without a murmur." — Chicago Tribune.

BUSINESS DERELICTS.

The Army of Men Who "Find Money, but Lost It."
A prominent New York lawyer of wide experience says that in his opinion ninety-nine out of every hundred of those who make money or inherit it lose it sooner or later.

How many thousands of good honest men and women there are in this country who have worked very hard and made all sorts of sacrifices of comfort and luxury in order to lay up something for the future and yet have reached middle life or later without having anything to show for it. Many of them, finding themselves without a home or any probability of getting one, without property or a cent of money laid by for sickness, for the inevitable emergency or for their declining years!

For the sake of your home, for the protection of hard earnings, for your peace of mind, your self respect, your self confidence, whatever else you do not neglect a good, solid business training and get it as early in life as possible. It will save you from many a fall from a thousand embarrassments and perhaps from the humiliation of being compelled to face your wife and children and confess to you have been a failure. It may save you from the mortification of having to move from a good home to a poor one, of seeing your property slip out of your hands and of having to acknowledge your weakness and your lack of foresight and thoughtfulness or your being made the dupe of sharpers.

Many men who once had good stores of their own are working as clerks, floorwalkers or superintendents of departments in other people's stores just because they risked and lost everything in some venture. As they now have other depending on them, they do not dare to take the risks which they took in their youthful days, and so they struggle along in mediocre positions, still mocked with ambitions which they have no chance to gratify.

Thousands of people who were in poverty and wretchedness today are because they failed to put an understanding or an agreement in writing or to do business in a business way. Families have been turned out of house and home penniless because they trusted a relative or a friend to "do what was right" by them without making a hard and fast, practical business arrangement with him.

It does not matter how honest people are. They forget, and it is so easy for misunderstandings to arise that it is never safe to leave anything of importance to a mere oral statement. "Be sure it is written. It costs but little in time or money, and when all parties interested are agreed that it is the best time to terminate the agreement in exact terms. This will often save lawsuits, bitterness and alienations. How many friendships have been broken by not putting understandings in writing. Thousands of cases are in the courts today because agreements were not put in writing. A large part of lawyers' incomes is derived from the same source.

Business talent is as rare as a talent for mathematics. We find boys and girls turned out of school and college full of theories and of all sorts of knowledge or splutterings of knowledge, but without the ability to protect themselves from human thieves who are trying to get something for nothing. No girl or boy should be allowed to graduate, especially from any of the higher institutions, without being well grounded in practical business methods. Parents who send their children out in life without seeing that they are well versed in ordinary business principles do them an incalculable injustice.—Success.

Refined and Subtle Sneers.
"I can never understand," says G. K. Chesterton, "why it is that in poems and romances the poor are made to write at the refined and subtle sneers of the rich. As far as I can see from the daily life of our streets, it is the poor who do the refined and subtle sneering and the rich who write all over the pavement." Any one who has studied the conditions of our great cities will see the truth of this. Every day we see paper boys running, gutter boys moving with an undignified swiftness and unemployables "humping themselves." If we may be permitted the use of the expression, in pursuit of cabs. And what do the rich do? They affect not to notice and pass by with well bred calm. What happens, however, if the ordinary well groomed man about town moves at more than a walk? Hoots of derision from the lower orders instantly assail him. A poor man may go about bareheaded. What happens if a rich man does the same? The refined and subtle sneers of the poor make him wish that he had never seen them. We hear of the old aristocracy want is either police protection from these gibes or a handy book of repartee so that we shall never be taken without our answer.—London Globe.

Marriage Superstitions.
Among the agricultural laborers in England neither father nor mother of the bride and bridegroom go with them to church. The bridesmaid and groomsmen should be an engaged couple whose marriage is fixed. If the wedding party does not count even one of the guests will die within a year. The wedding party should not be in church when the clock is striking, and the bride should not enter first in her own house after the marriage. It is unlucky to address the bride after the ceremony by her maiden name. In Moore's "Life of Byron" we are told that on the morning of his ill starred marriage, when about to depart, Byron said to the bride, "Miss Elfranka, are you ready?" a mistake which the lady's confidential attendant pronounced to be a bad omen.

Landseer's Value.
Sir Edwin Landseer, the famous animal painter, had an old servant—his butler, valet and faithful slave—named William, who was particularly assiduous in guarding the outer portal. No one could by any possibility gain direct access to Sir Edwin. The answer would invariably be, "Sir Edwin is not at home." The prince consort himself once received this answer when he called, amplified on that occasion by the assurance that "he had gone to a wedding." An entire fete on William's part, as the prince found out, for on walking boldly in and round the garden he noticed Sir Edwin looking out of his studio window. This was the faithful attendant who one day, when a lion had died at the zoo and his corpse came up in a four wheeled cab to be painted from, startled his master with the question, "Please, Sir Edwin, did you order a lion?"

A Lesson In Japanese Courtesy.
I remember many years ago a dinner at the palace—a great official dinner—where among the guests were many of the old leaders of rebellions, old upholders of the shogunate. The last shogun himself, Prince Tokugawa, proud, silent, grim, sat opposite to me, and I wondered if any human emotion could show itself on that impassive face. At that moment the emperor raised his glass and bowed in kindly smiling fashion to his ancient opponent. The face changed, was suffused for one illuminating moment with a glow of responsive fire. It seemed as if the emperor was once more thanking the shogun for his splendid patriotic act when after years of struggle he voluntarily laid his power and his prerogatives at the emperor's feet "for the good of the country," and as if Prince Tokugawa, looking back and looking forward—for Japan, said to himself once more, "It was well done." — Mary C. Fraser in World's Work.

Figures That Stagger.
It used to be that astronomy, with its stupendous magnitudes, incredible velocities and inconceivable distances, seemed to make the greatest demand on man's belief, says the London Telegraph. Today it is physics. We read, for instance, that Hertz's oscillations give rise to 500,000,000,000 oscillations per second. Where is the man who can conceive of anything happening in the five-hundred-millionth part of a second? But this is quite a long period compared to some of those now accepted as inevitable acts. According to Maxwell's great theory, a light wave is a series of alternating electric currents flowing in air or interplanetary space and changing their direction 1,000,000,000,000 times per second. And this is supposed to be true of every form of light coming from the sun, the electric lamp or a lucifer match. Who can think of anything happening in the thousand-million-millionth part of a second?

LIST OF HOME-COMING FESTIVITIES.

Louisville, where "Home-coming week" for Kentuckians is to be given, June 13-17, is preparing to cover itself with glory in the programme of amusement and entertainment provided for its many thousand guests.

The event begins on Wednesday, June 13, with a big reception and welcoming at the new Armory, built at the cost of nearly half million dollars, and which is the second largest building of the kind in the country. Mr. Henry Watterson, editor of the "Courier-Journal," Hon. J. C. W. Beckham, Governor of Kentucky, and Hon. Paul C. Barth, mayor of Louisville, will deliver the addresses of welcome, and they will be responded to by the Hon. David K. Francis, of St. Louis. Immediately following there will be a very pretty ceremony, in which Miss Louise Lee Hardin, of Denver, Col., the young lady who suggested "Home Coming Week for Kentuckians" will be decorated with a handsome medal.

At 3 o'clock there will be a handsome parade of eight divisions, devoted to automobiles, open carriages, trapezoids, tandems, tallies, four in hands and floats, together with an exhibition of the fighting apparatus of anti-bellum days and of the present period. The floral parade will close with the crowning of the queen.

At night there will be a big Philharmonic concert in the armory. Thursday will be known as Stephen Collins Foster Day, opening with the unveiling in the new armory of a statue for Stephen Collins Foster, who

REPORT OF S. S. CONVENTION.

The Annual convention of the Breckinridge county Sunday School Association was held at Garfield June 1-3. Friday evening Mr. E. A. Fox gave a stereopticon lecture, which was quite interesting.

Saturday—Forenoon Session was opened by singing "All Hail the Power of Jesus Name," the choir with an earnest prayer by M. P. Compton. Rev. D. F. Shacklette led the devotional, reading the 102nd Psalm.

I. Richardson, gave a most hearty welcome.

Response by Rev. Thompson.

The Meaning and Purpose of this Convention, County President is "The Salvation of Souls." In Dr. Whitworth's address, "The Real Work for a Real Sunday School," he reversed his subject, stating that a real Sunday School consisted of a Christian Superintendent and Christian teachers, and their real work was teaching the Bible.

"How and why you should have a Home Department in every Sunday School" was clearly brought out by Mr. Fox. Miss Bettie Taylor read a wrote my "Old Kentucky Home," erected out of subscriptions from the school children of Kentucky and ultimately to be placed in the new capitol in course of construction at Frankfort. Addresses on this occasion will be given by the Hon. Sidney P. Rodding, of Little Rock, Ark., and the Hon. R. W. Miller of Richmond, Ky. Songs written by Foster will be sung by a chorus of one thousand school children.

The statue will be unveiled by Mrs. Marian Foster Welch, of Allegheny, Pa., only daughter of Foster.

Friday will be called Daniel Boone day. It will witness another unveiling—that of Daniel Boone. This ceremony will be in Cherokee Park, where the statue has been permanently placed. Following the unveiling ceremony, there will be a reproduction of an Indian attack on Fort Boonesboro, one of the spectacular features of "Home Coming Week." The day will close with old fashioned dances on a special arranged dance floor over the tennis courts of the park.

At night a pageant, somewhat along the line of those of the yellow prophet at St. Louis, and during Mardi Gras at New Orleans, will present to the visitors in a series of fourteen floats the epochs of Kentucky history. The pageant will end at the armory, where Daniel Boone will be escorted to the ball room floor and welcomed by a queen and court, typifying a reception of "Old Kaintuck." This ball will be the largest function of the kind helpful paper on "Character building." Mr. Fox impressed this thought, that we as teachers should teach as a privilege and pleasure, and not as a duty.

Four of our district secretaries were present with good reports, showing an increase in the work since last year. Twenty-six schools were represented and reported, amounting to an association work from our county is $103.15, $15.00 has been pledged from three Schools, Irvington Baptist and Presbyterian, and Webster Methodist Sunday Schools, making a total $108.15. Now if each School will pay their apportionment we will collect the $125 amount our county has been assessed. Appointment of committees. Doxology.

After song and prayer, Mr. Fox told us "How to Improve the Sunday School."

1. Have a Sunday School Pastor. Let him be a leader.
2. A Good Superintendent.
3. Good Teachers.
4. Good sexton, one that will have the church clean and comfortable. All working together will improve the Sunday School.

Those that have heard Mrs. Piggett before know that she gave us an excellent talk on "The Teaching that Touches and Tells." Wish I had time ever given in the South.

On greater Kentucky day—Saturday, June 16—the programme will be divided between Frankfort the capital of the State, and Louisville. At noon, at Frankfort the corner stone will be laid. All living ex-governors of Kentucky will participate with Governor J. C. W. Beckham in these ceremonies. The other exercises will be held in Louisville.

There will be a reception at 3:30 o'clock in Central Park to all visitors given in honor of distinguished ex-Kentuckians present. This will be followed by ceremonies in the same park over the Lincoln Birth place Cabin which has been kindly loaned to the "Home Coming Week" Association by the New York owners. Addresses will be made by the Hon. Adlai E. Stevenson, of Illinois, and Mr. Henry Watterson. The cabin will be exhibited throughout the week at Central park. It will be exhibited long the entire route from New York. In the evening there will be a rally of Kentucky societies of other States in the new armory.

The closing day will be known as "Till We Meet Again." All of the pulpits of Louisville's churches will be filled in the morning by visiting ministers, and in the afternoon there will be children's services in Central Park, Cherokee Park and Shawnee Park.

At night there will be vespers services in the armory and addresses by distinguished sons of Kentucky.

and space to give the many good points she made, but am sure that all of us gained thoughts that will help to teach more effectively, to realize more since we heard the discussion on "Teachers' Training," that every Sunday School should have a teachers' meeting.

The short but spiritual little sermon by Rev. Hughes was enjoyed and appreciated by all.

Mr. Dowell encouraged us to work more in the Sunday School as the statistics showed that 50 or 60 per cent of the Christian people today come out for the Sunday School. Does it pay? As Mr. Hafferty was absent Rev. Thompson, suggested many helpful things "How to Make the Sunday School Go." Mr. Fox related an incident about what had been accomplished in one or two counties as the result of "Home to Home visitation." Which should put renewed zeal in us.

Committee on Resolutions

Resolved, That, that we the members of Breckinridge county Sunday School Convention wish to express our thanks for the Christian influence and the great work this interdenominational movement.

2nd, That we tender our thanks to Mr. E. A. Fox, our State Secretary, for his helpful presence and efficient work and we hope that the many good things from him may be carried to the respective schools of our county.

3rd, To the good people of Garfield, we wish to express our sincere thanks for the temporal and spiritual provisions for the day.

4th, That we wish to express to the choir our thanks for the inspiring and helpful influence of some thrilling music.

5th, That we thank the county papers for the helpful advertisement of our Sunday School work.

6th, That we extend our thanks to our faithful county officers, who have so willingly, so faithfully and so efficiently performed the duties of the offices.

7th, Be offered our thanks to our Heavenly Father for the day. It has been one of great benediction to us as individuals, and as a great Sunday School body.

The Broken Covenant.

One old fashioned divine of my early youth preached every Sunday upon "The Broken Covenant." At length the long suffering parishioners could stand it no longer, and a deputation was organized to visit the man. The deputation informed the minister that they were extremely weary of hearing continually of "the broken covenant" and that there was a general desire to have at least one new sermon. "You shall have it," said the worthy minister in conciliatory strain; "you shall have a perfectly new sermon next Sunday." Accordingly the church was fuller than usual, and a thrill of satisfaction ran round when the text was announced in these words: "And the cup was found in Benjamin's sack." "Let me tell you, my friends," said the preacher, "the day is coming when all your sacks will be ripped. And what, think you, will be found in them? Yes, what you will find in them? Again I ask you, what will be found in them? The first thing found in them will be the broken covenant," on which I will now proceed to speak at great length." This was hope dashed to the ground, and the congregation fell back into the estate of utter misery in which they had listened to that dismal orator on many past days—London Standard

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour eructations, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion, Kodol cures indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure does not only cure indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy cures all stomach troubles by clearing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach. Mr. E. S. Bell, of Riverwood, W. Va., writes: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me, and is now used in my family."

Kodol Digests What You Eat. Bottles only, $1.00. Size holding 2 1/2 times the usual size, which sells for 50 cents.
